W: Hey, who are you talking to?

M: Hi, Jenny. I'm just talking to my plant.

W: Seriously? I've never heard of doing that.

M: You know what's interesting? Speaking to your plants can actually help them grow better.

W: No way! How so?

M: When we talk, we breathe out carbon dioxide, and plants love it. It's essential for their growth.

W: That makes sense.

M: And guess what? The vibrations from our voices when we talk can promote plant growth too.

W: That's pretty cool!

M: Yeah. We can help our plants grow better by talking to them.

W: I see. I might just say 'hi' to my plants and see how they like it.

3. 다음을 듣고, 남자가 하는 말의 요지로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Welcome back to our channel, Wellness Wisdom! Are you in the habit of eating fruit after your meals? Then this video is a must-watch for you. Fruit is packed with essential nutrients such as vitamins and minerals, but eating them immediately after a meal might lead to digestive issues. Fruit usually digests faster than other types of foods. So, when you have fruit right after a meal, the fruit may not digest fast because other foods stay in the stomach. This increases the pressure on the digestive system and may result in a stomachache and discomfort. Remember, choosing fruit as dessert may get your digestive system in trouble. Stay healthy, stay informed.

M: Fantastic! Is it possible to ride the bicycle next to the tree?

W: Of course. We can do everything in virtual reality.

M: Awesome. I love the two dogs looking at each other.

W: Yeah, they make my place so lovely.

M: I agree. I also like that striped-patterned mat on the ground.

W: Hello, students. Nowadays, some desserts are very popular and well-known worldwide. Today, we'll learn about where and when those desserts might have originated. First, scones are said to have come from Scotland in the early 1500s. Some historians assume that it was named after the Stone of Scone, on which the kings of Scotland sat while being crowned. Secondly, gelato is thought to have been invented in Italy in the 16th century. Historians aren't sure who invented it, but it's generally believed that an Italian architect, Bernardo Buontalenti, created a form of the modern-day gelato. Thirdly, the first marshmallows are said to have been produced in Egypt around 2000 BC. Marshmallows were offered only to the ancient Egyptian gods and pharaohs as a candy or dessert. Lastly, cinnamon rolls might have originated in Sweden in the 17th century. It's believed that cinnamon spice started arriving in Sweden through trade routes and was later used in rolls and desserts. Now, I'd like you to search for more details of these desserts.
